Bahamas Bliss

Daydreaming about swimming and snorkeling in one of the world's largest barrier reefs? What about catching fish for dinner, shopping at high-end boutiques for embroidered caftans, curling up on a chaise and watching a favorite old movie in a private outdoor theater, or playing golf on an Ernie Els-designed golf course amid bougainvillea blooms and fresh salt air? If so, the Bahamian archipelago, which is made up of 700 tiny islands, is for you. Whether you're looking to rent a private island, check into a five-star resort, or buy a piece of oceanfront property in one of several exclusive new developments, the Bahamas has it all. Herewith, the hottest spots... —PUNCH HUTTON

TRAVEL

HANG OUT WITH THE LOCALS

STANIEL CAY (stanielcay.com)

ACCOMMODATIONS: Quaint oceanfront cottages of the Staniel Cay Yacht Club, starting at $162. HOW BIG IS THE ISLAND? Less than two square miles. DINING: The bar and restaurant of the yacht club are where the Exumas social scene converges. The catch of the day is really the catch of the day, and they serve real down-home dishes such as Bahamian spiny lobster and burgers. WATER SPORTS: Snorkeling, fishing, kayaking, swimming with sharks, sailboat racing, and scuba diving. FUN FACT: The James Bond films Thunderball and Never Say Never Again were filmed at Thunderball Cave, a natural fishbowl. PRIVACY FACTOR: Low, but it's not easy to get to, so it's far from touristy.

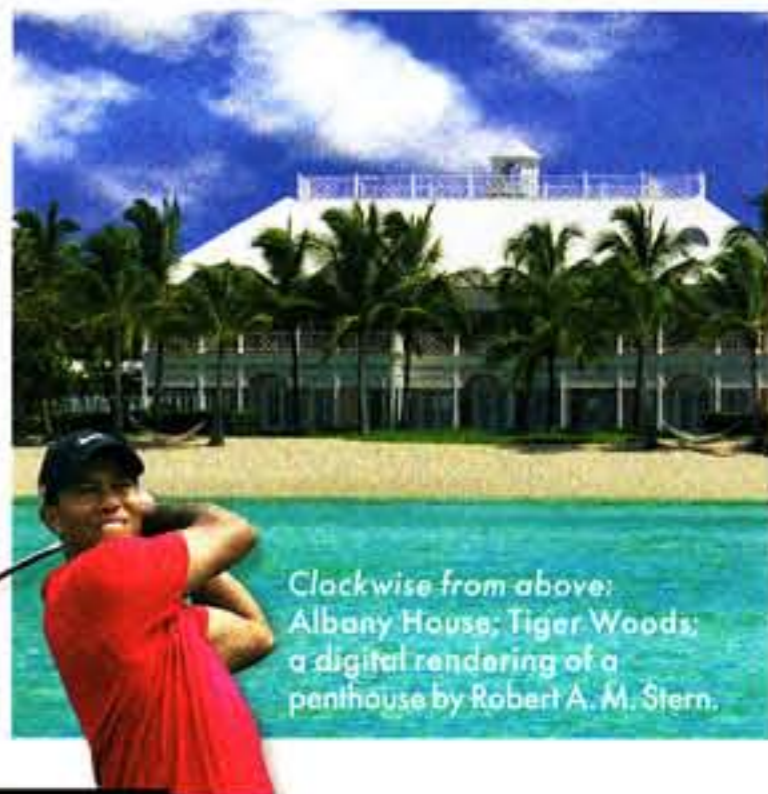

AT PLAY IN AN ELEGANT UTOPIA

ALBANY (albanybahamas.com)

Albany is a new, 565-acre luxury oceanfront resort community currently being built on New Providence Island; set to open early 2010.

ACCOMMODATIONS: A world-renowned group of architects, including Robert A. M. Stern, Charles Gwathmey, and Robert Siegel, has been commissioned to design a boutique hotel, custom homes, and grand marina residences. DINING: Five restaurants, including one with a five-star rating. SPA: Full service. WATER

SPORTS: A 16-acre inland marina allows for everything from sailing and scuba diving to deep-sea fishing. ON-LAND FUN: Boxing facility, kids' clubhouse with water park, equestrian center, tennis courts, and 18-hole championship golf course designed by Ernie Els. FUN FACTS: Albany House, the newly renovated clubhouse, is where James Bond seduced a villain's wife in Casino Royale, 2006. Tiger Woods and Els are two of the resort's developers.

THE COVE (thecoveatlantis.com)

The Cove is a sophisticated and intimate enclave within the Atlantis resort world. ACCOMMODATIONS: 600 suites with balconies, and panoramic water views. DINING: Three restaurants—Mediterranean, burgers and salads, and Bobby Flay's Mesa Grill. SPA: The Mandara Spa Atlantis fuses Balinese techniques with indigenous Bahamian healing elements. WATER SPORTS: Swim in Dolphin Cay, a 14-acre lagoon, which is home to 16 dolphins orphaned by Hurricane Katrina. ON-LAND FUN: Book a private beachside cabana. There are craps and blackjack tables at Cain, the adults-only pool. Nearby Atlantis has one of the world's largest open-air reconstructed marine habitats. PRIVACY FACTOR: Not much. FUN FACT: Vivre, the posh catalogue, opened its flagship store, Escape, here. You can also go to Atlantis for an afternoon filled with concerts, water slides, and fab shopping including Cartier, Gucci, and Bulgari.

destination: Bahamas month: NOVEMBER year: 2008

The Bahamas are a three-hour flight from New York City or a 30-minute jump from Miami into Nassau International Airport (there are also numerous other airports in the archipelago). Delta, US Airways, JetBlue, Bahamas Airways, and British Airways are among the most-used carriers. Once there, most visitors travel via ferry or seaplane to their final destination. Most people agree: if you can afford it, chartering a yacht through the various Bahamian islands is the best way to take your holiday (bahamasboat.com). GOOD TO KNOW: Bahamas currency is equivalent to American dollars. Bring cash—many of the smaller islands don't have A.T.M.'s. NO WAITING IN LINE: American visitors departing the Bahamas go through U.S. customs on the island side.
